  - Other

Please provide details of up to three concrete examples, including aims and scope of measures taken, target population, budget, impact evaluations, lesson learnt, and links to further information. Where relevant and possible, please provide data to support your responses (2 pages max.).

4. Has the increasing number of humanitarian crises—caused by conflict, extreme weather or other events—affected the implementation of the BPfA in your country?

YES/NO

If YES, please give concrete examples of the effects of humanitarian crises on progress for women and girls in your country and of measures taken to prevent and respond to humanitarian crises in a gender-responsive manner (1 page max.).

The current severe human rights situation in Georgia’s occupied regions of Abkhazia and Tskhinvali region/South Ossetia largely affects the conditions of women as one of the most vulnerable groups. Following military aggression in 2008, the Russian Federation continues to occupy Georgian territories and takes steps for their de-facto annexation. Along with intensive militarization of Abkhazia and Tskhinvali region/South Ossetia, basic human rights and freedoms of the local population are systematically and gravely violated in breach of fundamental principles of international law. This includes ethnic discrimination of remaining Georgian population in Gali and Akhalkalaki districts, Russification policy and attempts of erasing Georgian traces, restrictions of the right to receive education in native language and to move freely, division of population living on both sides of occupation line by barbed wires and other artificial barriers, illegal detentions and infringement of the right to life, pressure on and intimidation of people.

Existing situation particularly affects women and expose them to increased risk of violence. They are systematically subject to human rights violations, including illegal detentions and threats to physical security. IDP women living in exile are up to now deprived of the right to safe and dignified return. The Russian FSB officers standing at the occupation lines regularly carry out arbitrary detentions for the so-called “illegal border crossing”. This also includes the detention of women. The most severe case concerned the detention of a mother of three children Maia O tinashvili in Autumn 2018 who was kidnapped from her yard and threatened to 20 years imprisonment. She was convicted for soliciting Ossetians to come on Georgian controlled territory. Only through the activation of all possible channels by the Government of Georgia and the assistance of international partners she was released after several weeks of illegal detention.

The communities in the occupied territories also face humanitarian challenges. In winter 2019, all crossing points were totally closed for unprecedented period that put the occupied territories in isolation, led to humanitarian crisis, shortage of medicine and increased prices. Even people in need of emergency medical treatment, including women, had to wait for several days to be allowed to come on the other side. The local population in Gali district of Abkhazia region are exposed to illegal taxes for their agricultural lands and harvest, mostly hazelnuts, which is a major source of their income.
The Government of Georgia intensively works with international partners to maintain the human rights violations in the occupied territories of Georgia, including the rights of women, high on the agenda at all international forums and formats, including vis a vis in the dialogue of international community with Russia. The situation in Georgia’s regions of Abkhazia and Tskhinvali region/South Ossetia is discussed in Geneva International Discussions where Russia is a party to the conflict. Georgian participants permanently raise the issues of safe and dignified return of all IDPs and refugees to their homes, installment of international security mechanisms on the ground and ensuring access of EU Monitoring Mission to the occupied territories, which up to now is not allowed to enter these regions despite its full-fledged mandate. At the same time, the Government of Georgia cooperates with international donors and organizations to ensure their access and engagement in the occupied territories. As a result, international organizations are implementing a number of humanitarian projects in Abkhazia region (Tskhinvali region/South Ossetia remains fully sealed off for international organizations, except for ICRC) that also concern the assistance and strengthening of women. In parallel to this, the Government of Georgia takes steps to ensure and simplify access of the residents of occupied territories to different government services, inter alia to healthcare, educational and socio-economic programs. The special healthcare program effectively operates that ensures free of charge medical treatment of all residents of Abkhazia and Tskhinvali region/South Ossetia, including women. Abkhazia region is also regularly provided with necessary medical equipment and drugs as well as agricultural facilities.

5. Which of the following does your country consider to be the top five priorities for accelerating progress for women and girls in your country for the coming five years through laws, policies and programmes? (please check relevant categories)

- Equality and non-discrimination under the law and access to justice
- Quality education, training and life-long learning for women and girls
- Poverty eradication, agricultural productivity and food security
- Eliminating violence against women and girls
- Access to affordable quality health care, including sexual and reproductive health and reproductive rights
- Political participation and representation
- Right to work and rights at work (e.g. gender pay gap, occupational segregation, career progression)
- Women’s entrepreneurship and women’s enterprises
- Unpaid care and domestic work / work-family conciliation (e.g. paid maternity or parental leave, care services)
- Gender-responsive social protection (e.g. universal health coverage, cash transfers, pensions)
- Basic services and infrastructure (water, sanitation, hygiene, energy, transport, communication, etc.)
- Strengthening women’s participation in ensuring environmental sustainability
- Gender-responsive budgeting
- Digital and financial inclusion for women
- Gender-responsive disaster risk prevention, reduction and resilience building
- Changing negative social norms and gender stereotypes
- Other

Please provide brief reflections on how you plan to address these priorities (3 – 5 pages).

Section Two: Progress across the 12 critical areas of concern
This section covers progress across the 12 critical areas of concern of the Beijing Platform for Action. To facilitate the analysis, the 12 critical areas of concern have been clustered into six overarching dimensions that highlight the alignment of the BPfA with the 2030 Agenda. This approach is aimed at facilitating reflections about the implementation of both frameworks in a mutually reinforcing manner to accelerate progress for all women and girls.

Inclusive development, shared prosperity and decent work

2 Article 64 of the Civil Service Law of Georgia encourages the paternity leave by granting male servants as well a leave of 550 calendar days for child care, 90 calendar days of which are paid, in case the child’s mother has not used the leave. The above-mentioned article for the first time creates an opportunity for both parents and serves as a basis for promotion work-family conciliation by involving man in domestic work. Since 2016 8 men have used the paternity leave under the new legal framework.

3 In Georgia, MenCare Campaign is implemented by UNFPA Georgia Country Office to reinforce men’s support in achieving gender equality. Among the participants of the campaign are high-level politicians, representatives of the Government. The campaign presents as an excellent advocacy platform to demonstrate the commitment toward gender equality as an important issue not only for women, but also for men and for the society at large.

4 Article 27(1), (2) of the Labour Code provides for 730 calendar days of maternity leave upon the employee’s request, 183 of which will be paid; 200 days can be paid in the event of complications with the pregnancy or multiple births. The Civil Service Law of Georgia allows its employees to keep the salary and pardons the time missed from work used for the medical checkup and examination during the pregnancy in case of prove by medical documents. The Labour Code prohibits termination of employment during maternity leave and considers terminating labour relations to be inadmissible during the period maternity, newborn adoption leave of absence, and child care additional leave of absence after a female employee notifies the employer about her pregnancy. Article 111(2) of the Law on Public Service precludes dismissal of an elected or appointed “official” at the national and sub-national level who is pregnant or raising a child up to three years of age.

The national human rights institution responsible for protection, monitoring and promotion of human rights in Georgia is the Office of the Public Defender. The Public Defender (Ombudsman) of Georgia oversees the observance of human rights and freedoms in Georgia. It advises the government on human rights issues. It also analyses the state’s laws, policies and practices, in compliance with the international standards, and provides relevant recommendations.

The powers and functions of the Public Defender are defined in the 1996 Organic Law on the Public Defender of Georgia. The Public Defender exercises its functions independently and is bound only by the Constitution, international treaties and agreements of Georgia, and by the universally recognized principles and rules of international law, the Organic Law on Public Defender of Georgia, and other legislative acts.\(^{12}\)

The Public Defender exercises the functions of the National Preventive Mechanism (NPM), envisaged by the Optional Protocol to the United Nations Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (OPCAT).\(^{13}\) Based on the Law on “Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination”, the Public Defender is designated as an equality body, whose one of the main functions is to supervise the implementation of the law.\(^{14}\) In 2014 the Public Defender of Georgia was named as the structure for ensuring implementation, promotion and protection of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.\(^{15}\)

The Public Defender monitors issues related to elimination of all forms of discrimination and ensures equality by examining statements of possible victims and study of the facts of direct or indirect discriminations, trying to settle a case by mutual agreement between the victim of discrimination and alleged discriminator, producing appropriate recommendations to restore rights of victims, providing relevant institutions with proposals on preventing or combating discrimination, recording and analyzing statistical data on facts of discrimination.\(^{16}\) Article 14 of the Gender Equality Law recognizes the two key functions performed by the Public Defender’s Office: monitoring gender equality issues and addressing individual complaints concerning rights violations.

The Public Defender is the first state institution that established structural unit on gender equality issues. The Department of Gender Equality of the Public Defender’s Office was set up in May, 2013. Its mandate includes, \textit{inter alia}, monitoring protection of the right to gender equality, as well as examining individual complaints concerning related rights violations and issuing recommendations. It also engages in research, promotes gender equality issues in the activities of the Public Defender, raises public awareness of gender equality issues in Georgia, and issues annual and special reports on women’s rights issues. Public Defender’s Office has nine regional representations. Gender Specialist’s position was introduced in the regional offices. Currently gender specialists are in four regions offices: Kakheti, Kvemo Kartli, Samegrelo and Adjara.

Section Three: National institutions and processes

32. What is your country’s current national machinery for gender equality and the empowerment of women? Please name it and describe its location within Government.

Georgia’s national machinery consists of three key bodies:

1. Gender Equality Council of the Parliament;
2. Inter-Agency Commission on Gender Equality, Violence against Women and Domestic Violence Issues; and
3. Gender Department of the Public Defender’s Office;

The Gender Equality Council was established as an advisory body based on Parliamentary Decree in 2004. In 2010, with the passage of Gender Equality Law the Gender Equality Council became a standing body. In June 2017 the institutional framework for Gender Equality Council has changed and it became permanent consultation body to the Parliament of Georgia that exists to ensure systematic and coordinated activity on gender issues.

The Decree (N286) of the Government of Georgia approved the statute of the Inter-Agency Commission on Gender Equality, Violence against Women and Domestic Violence Issues and in 2017, for the first time, gender equality institutional mechanism has been established in executive government. Article 12, paragraph 6 of the Law of Georgia on Gender Equality states that the Government of Georgia in order to ensure systemic and coordinated work on gender issues creates the Inter-agency Commission on Gender Equality, Violence against Women and Domestic Violence Issues. The Commission is co-chaired by the Assistant to the Prime Minister on Human Rights and Gender Equality Issues and the Deputy Justice Minister of Georgia and the members of the Inter-agency Commission include representatives of different government institutions.

Under Article 6 of the Law of Georgia on the Elimination of All forms of Discrimination the Public Defender is responsible for the monitoring and elimination of discrimination and the process of ensuring equality. Article 7 of the same Law determines that the Public Defender annually publishes special report on combating and preventing discrimination and on equality situation in Georgia. Article 14 of the Gender Equality Law recognizes two key functions performed by the Public Defender’s Office: monitoring protection of gender equality issues and addressing individual complaints concerning rights violations.
33. Is the head of the national machinery a member of the institutional process for SDG implementation (e.g., inter-ministerial coordinating office, commission or committees)?

YES/NO

There is no national process for SDG implementation

If YES, please provide further information

The Government has offered high-level political support to incorporating SDGs into national priorities. Since 2015 the Government of Georgia has adopted the global goals and has been working through a process to nationalize the targets and indicators. In 2015 the Administration of Government of Georgia was granted coordination functions of the implementation of SDGs and it was largely intra-governmental process involving all ministries and agencies. The High-Level Political Forum (HLPF) meets annually to review country reports.

Since May 2, 2017 the implementation and monitoring of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development is facilitated through the Sustainable Development Goals Council, which was formally established through the Ordinance of the Prime Minister of Georgia. The detailed functioning of the SDGs Council was determined at its first meeting on October 24, 2017. The Council gained the core function to oversee the implementation of Sustainable Development Goals in Georgia which includes:

- Coordination of interagency issues associated with the implementation of SDGs;
- Adoption of decisions on updating and extending SDGs, SDG indicators, and the SDG national document;
- Continue to incorporate SDGs into Georgia’s national policies;
- Establishment and oversight of relevant working groups to support the strategic planning, integrated implementation, and effective monitoring of assigned SDGs and related thematic fields, etc.¹⁹

The Council is chaired by the Head of the Administration of the Government of Georgia and co-chaired by the UN Resident Coordinator and reports directly to the Prime Minister.²⁰

34. Are there formal mechanisms in place for different stakeholders to participate in the implementation and monitoring of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action and the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development?

YES/NO

Implementation and monitoring process of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action is led by the Inter-Agency Commission on Gender Equality, Violence against Women and Domestic Violence Issues. The Commission has created working group on International Obligations and members of the group are focal points appointed in state agencies. The report “National-level Review of the Implementation of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action Beijing +25” prepared with active consultations of Working Group and CSO representatives.

b) Do you have mechanisms in place to ensure that women and girls from marginalized groups can participate and that their concerns are reflected in these processes?

YES/NO

Please provide further details about the mechanisms used. (2 pages max.)

c) Please describe how stakeholders have contributed to the preparation of the present national report.

35. Is gender equality and the empowerment of all women and girls included as a key priority in the national plan/strategy for SDG implementation?

☐ Yes
☐ No
☐ There is no national plan/strategy for SDG implementation

Please explain.

The SDGs have been well fitted into the national policies and also are integrated in strategic umbrella document - Annual Governmental Work Plan (AGWP), other national, multi-sectorial strategies and action plans. Important work has been done by Georgia to ensure that SDGs have gender-sensitive indicators. Of the 54 gender-related indicators at the global level, 30 (56%) have been adopted as is. The steps taken by the government will increase women’ economic participation, promote equal economic opportunities for women and men, advance gender balance in decision making, and will ensure elimination of violence against women and girls.

To support the functioning of the Council, four thematic SDG Working Groups have been established: Social Inclusion, Economic Development, Democratic Governance and Sustainable Energy and

Environmental Protection. SDG 5 and 10, SDG 16 falls within the competence of the Democratic Governance Working Group. The Council makes political decisions, while Working Groups work on thematic directions and coordinate the work of the involved institutions on data collection and SDGs integration into national policy documents. The responsibilities of this Working Group are to:

- Ensure the efficient implementation of assigned SDGs;
- Make informed recommendations to relevant stakeholders on key policy priorities;
- Incorporate knowledge-sharing mechanisms that can be utilized by the Working Group to advance the integrated implementation of SDGs;
- Ensure the integration of SDGs into national policy planning system via incorporating the SDG targets into existing or prospective National Strategies and Action Plans;
- Provide feedback, guidance and relevant insight in the drafting of Georgia’s Voluntary National Review on the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda;
- Create effective mechanisms to successfully monitor and evaluate assigned SDGs;
- Conduct a targets/indicators revision and extension of sustainable development targets for approval of the SDGs Council.

Section Four: Data and statistics

36. What are the top three areas in which your country has made most progress over the past five years when it comes to gender statistics at the national level? (please check relevant categories)

- Promulgated laws, regulations, or statistical programme/strategy setting out the development of gender statistics
- Established an inter-agency coordination mechanism on gender statistics (e.g., technical working group, inter-agency committee)
- Used more gender-sensitive data in the formulation of policy and implementation of programmes and projects
- Re-processed existing data (e.g., censuses and surveys) to produce more disaggregated and/or new gender statistics
- Conducted new surveys to produce national baseline information on specialized topics (e.g., time use, gender-based violence, asset ownership, poverty, disability)
- Improved administrative-based or alternative data sources to address gender data gaps
- Produced knowledge products on gender statistics (e.g., user-friendly reports, policy briefs, research papers)
- Developed a centralized web-based database and/or dashboard on gender statistics
- Engaged in capacity building to strengthen the use of gender statistics (e.g., trainings, statistical appreciation seminars)
- Other

Please provide details of up to three concrete examples of measures taken, including aims and scope of measures taken, budget, impact evaluations, lesson learnt, and links to further information. Please also provide information about actions for specific groups of women and girls.

25 The National Study on Violence against Women, conducted by GeoStat and supported by UN Women and the European Union, has significantly contributed to produce reliable indicators of violence, representative at the national, urban, rural and, to the extent possible, regional level
37. Out of the following which are your country’s top three priorities for strengthening national gender statistics over the next five years? (please check relevant categories)

☐ Design of laws, regulations, or statistical programme/strategy promoting the development of gender statistics
☐ Establishment of an inter-agency coordination mechanism on gender statistics (e.g., technical working group, inter-agency committee)
☐ Use more gender-sensitive data in the formulation of policy and implementation of programmes and projects
☐ Re-processing of existing data (e.g., censuses and surveys) to produce more disaggregated and/or new gender statistics
☐ Conduct of new surveys to produce national baseline information on specialized topics (e.g., time use, gender-based violence, asset ownership, poverty, disability)
☐ Greater utilization and/or improvement of administrative-based or alternative data sources to address gender data gaps
☐ Production of knowledge products on gender statistics (e.g., user-friendly reports, policy briefs, research papers)
☐ Development of a centralized web-based database and/or dashboard on gender statistics
☐ Institutionalization of users-producers’ dialogues mechanisms
☐ Statistical capacity building of users to increase statistical appreciation on and use of gender statistics (e.g., trainings, statistical appreciation seminars)
☐ Other

Please provide a brief explanation and examples of your plans (2 pages max.).

38. Have you defined a national set of indicators for monitoring progress on the SDGs?

☐ Yes
☐ No

If YES, how many indicators does it include and how many of those are gender-specific

If YES, how many of the gender-specific indicators are additional country indicators (i.e., not part of the global SDG monitoring and indicator framework)?

Please provide the indicators in an annex (Annex 1 and Annex 2)

If NO, how many global gender-specific SDG indicators (list provided in Annex 1) are available in your country?

26 The term ‘gender-specific indicators’ is used to refer to indicators that explicitly call for disaggregation by sex and/or refer to gender equality as the underlying objective. For example, SDG indicator 5.c.1 captures the percentage of countries with systems to track public allocations that are directed towards policies and programmes that promote gender equality—the underlying objective is the promotion of gender equality. The term is also used for indicators where women and girls are specified within the indicator as the targeted population (see UN Women. 2018. Turning Promises into Action: Gender Equality in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. New York).
Please provide the indicators in an annex

39. Has data collection and compilation on SDG 5 indicators and on gender-specific indicators under other SDGs begun?

☐ Yes
☐ No

If YES, please describe which indicators have been prioritized

If NO, explain the main challenges for collecting and compiling data on these indicators

Data collection has been identified as the main challenge for implementation of the SDGs and barriers include a lack of consistent data collection standards and capacity for analysis. The key problem identified in the first Voluntary National Report on implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) is the lack of data disaggregated by age, gender, and specific sectors of economy. This especially concerns the Goals and Targets that deal with social rights, labor rights, gender issues, poverty and unemployment.\(^{27}\) The first VNR states that lack of sector-disaggregated data and administrative statistics in many areas impedes development of the effective indicators and means of verification. The process of adjusting the SDGs has helped Georgia to pinpoint specific areas in which the national data collection must improve.\(^{28}\) Georgia has identified sectoral, disaggregated data generation and analysis as an area of interest to learn best international practices and seek assistance.\(^{29}\) The identified data gaps in the first VNR demonstrate substantial need for upgrading Georgia’s national statistical research infrastructure and practices, which will require additional training, better financing and attraction of the necessary human capital.\(^{30}\)

In 2019 Data for the SDGs report will be collated through an Electronic Management System (EMS), which ensures effective coordination between government agencies in the process of monitoring and reporting on the national SDG agenda and helps to report on the implementation of the 2030 Agenda through a web-based monitoring system. The four groups are: (a) good governance, (b) economic growth; (c) social inclusion, (d) sustainable energy and environment protection. There is no separate group for gender issues or gender statistics. Gender concerns, including gender statistics, are led by Inter-agency Commission on Gender Equality and Violence against Women and Domestic Violence Issues and are discussed under the good governance and social inclusion working group.

National Study on Violence against Women in Georgia conducted by GeoStat and UN Women supported by the European Union was designed to meet the requirements of the SDG indicators under target 5.2 (regarding intimate partner violence and non-partner sexual violence).
