VIOLENCE AGAINST IMMIGRANT WOMEN

Turkey is among the countries, which value women’s social and work life. Our ministry is the main institution that works to support women’s employment by providing policies that are appropriate to changing and evolving conditions of working life.

The Ministry also examines complaints about psychological harassment by the Secretariat General of the Presidency (CIMER) through ALO 170 line and through individual petitions by employees.

Our Ministry has a comprehensive approach to all women in the country in all its work towards improving the working conditions of women.

Within the scope of this resolution, the activities are as follows:

Paragraph 3:
Our Ministry takes into account the provisions of the following EU Directives when regulating working life:

- Directive 2006/54 on the Implementation of Equal Opportunities and Equal Treatment between Men and Women on Employment and Work,
- Council Directive 79/7 / EEC on the progressive implementation of the principle of equality of treatment between men and women in social security matters,
- Directive 2010/18 / EU on the Implementation of the Framework Agreement on Parental Leave,

Paragraphs 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 24, 28:

The legislation on women’s place in work life and gender equality is enshrined in our laws, regulations and in the Circular No. 2010/14. In addition to statutory regulations, international directives and conventions on gender equality are taken into account and joint efforts are carried out with national and international organizations. In this framework, efforts are made to strengthen women’s socio-economic status, to ensure gender equality in women’s social life, to increase employment of women in order to achieve sustainable economic growth and social development goals, to provide equal wages for equal work and to protect the rights of women in working life.

The Development Plans and the National Employment Strategy also include measures to remove barriers to women’s participation in labor and employment.

Paragraphs 12, 15, 16, 17, 18, 23, 29, 30, 31:

According to the Article 5 of the Labor Law, which came into force on 10/06/2003, entitled “Principle of Equal Treatment”, no distinction can be made in the employment relationship based on language, race, color, gender, disability, political thought, philosophical belief, religion and sect and similar reasons.
According to the same article, the employer cannot perform a direct or indirect operation on the basis of gender or pregnancy, when a worker is obliged to make a contract of employment, the creation, application and termination of his / her terms, unless the biological, or biological, nature of the work is required.

In addition to all these studies, the National Monitoring and Coordination Board on Women's Employment was established in accordance with the Circular No. 2010/14 to identify the current problems in the field of women's employment and to monitor, evaluate, coordinate and cooperate with all the relevant parties in order to eliminate these problems. The Board consists of representatives of relevant institutions and organizations within the Ministry.
