In 2011, UN Women and the Department of Peacekeeping Operations developed the first-ever scenario-based training course aimed at preventing and addressing conflict-related sexual violence.

Over the following three years these exercises were piloted in:

- Mexico
- Brazil
- Uruguay
- Argentina
- Spain
- Bosnia and Herzegovina
- Netherlands
- Mongolia
- Japan
- Bangladesh
- Malaysia
- Indonesia
- India
- Rwanda
- Kenya
- South Africa

UN Women thanks its donors Australia and the Netherlands

Example:
In India, UN Women has supported the Centre for UN Peacekeeping to train 1216 prospective peacekeepers on sexual violence.
