a. UN Women Terms of Reference

Introduction

To address the global challenges of VAWG, the European Union (EU) and the United Nations have partnered on a new multi-year programme, the EU-UN Spotlight Initiative. The Spotlight Initiative aims to support transformative change on the ground to end violence against women and girls. The overall vision of the Spotlight Initiative in Timor-Leste is that women and girls enjoy their right to a life free of violence, within an inclusive and gender equitable Timor-Leste. The programme is aligned to the Timor-Leste “National Action Plan on Gender-Based Violence (2017-2021) and National SDG Roadmap, particularly on SDGs 5 and 16. It will contribute to the National Strategic Development Plan and reinforce Timor-Leste’s Development Plan and reinforce Timor-Leste’s implementation of commitments under the Beijing Platform for Action, the Concluding Observations of the CEDAW Committee, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, among other international obligations.

The program was globally launched in 2017 and began implementation in Timor-Leste in 2020. There are five UN agencies participating in the Timor-Leste Spotlight Initiative. There are the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and Empowerment of Women (UN Women), the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the United Nation Children’s Fund (UNICEF), the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), the International Labour Organization (ILO). The Resident Coordinator’s Office (RCO) provides overall strategic oversight and coordination for the Spotlight Initiative within the UN, with UN Women acting as the Technical Lead.

Despite progress which has been made, violence against women and girls, and particularly intimate partner violence, remains widespread, with 38% to 59% of women in Timor-Leste between the ages of 15 to 19 experience violence in their lifetime¹. As stated in Timor-Leste’s Voluntary National Review on the SDGs in 2019 and the report for the Beijing Platform of Action +25, there is a need for a comprehensive approach to ending violence against women and girls.

The EU-UN Spotlight Initiative will contribute to the elimination of domestic violence, including intimate partner violence (DV/IPV), by responding to the needs of women and girls and addressing the underlying causes of violence against women and girls, using a multi-sectoral and intersectional approach across the ecological model. This will involve strengthening and widening partnerships and solidarity across civil society, government, media, private sector and development partners. Based on the approved design of the Spotlight Initiative in Timor-Leste, programming will be focused in Ermera, Bobonaro and Viqueque Municipalities.

Civil society organizations (CSOs), including organizations of persons with disabilities (DPOs) play a crucial role in advancing shared strategic objectives to promote gender equality, women’s rights and empowerment as well as addressing VAWG at all levels. CSOs, including DPOs, continue to be an important constituency, working to hold the government accountable in order to deliver on commitments. However, despite the potential of civil society and women groups to advance women’s rights, including ending VAWG, they have faced gaps in funding, strategy and capacity. This has also limited the connection between civil society service providers for survivors of VAWG and DPOs, creating gaps in access and services to women and girl survivors of violence with disabilities.

It is important to advance the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) principle of national ownership and the commitment to leave no one behind. These are both key goals of the Spotlight Initiative. Civil society networks and organizations have been accorded a unique role in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the Spotlight Initiative at country.

The Spotlight Initiative’s approach to improving access to essential services supports the National Action Plan on GBV and aligns to The UN Essential Services Package for Women and Girls Subject to Violence, a global standard which “identifies the essential services to be provided by the health, social services, police and justice sectors as well as guidelines for the coordination of essential services and the governance of coordination processes and mechanisms. Service delivery guidelines for the core elements of each essential service have been identified to ensure the delivery of high-quality services, particularly for low- and middle-income countries, for women and girls experiencing violence.”¹ This model understands that gender equality is the root cause of VAWG, and as part of responses, it is important to recognize the various factors which increase the risk of violence and factors which serve as protective factors at the individual/relationship and at the community level. Poverty, disability, gender inequitable attitudes, childhood exposure to violence, low levels of education are some of the risks for victimization.

About UN Women

The United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN Women) is grounded in the vision of equality enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations. It works for the elimination of discrimination against women and girls; the empowerment of women; and the achievement of equality between women and men as partners and beneficiaries of development, human rights, humanitarian action and peace and security. UN Women also coordinates and promotes the UN system's work in advancing gender equality, and in all deliberations and agreements linked to the 2030 Agenda. The entity works to position gender equality as fundamental to the Sustainable Development Goals, and a more inclusive world.

Current developments

Women and girls with disabilities are more at risk of experiencing violence. International evidence shows that women with disabilities are twice as likely to experience violence compared to women without a disability. The Nabilan Baseline found that women who had experienced intimate partner violence were significantly more likely to report mental health problems, including depression, and were more likely to be at risk of disability. Women who had experienced IPV were significantly more likely to have poor mental health.²

Research conducted by the organization of people with disabilities Raes Hadomi Timor Oan (RHTO) on the experiences and needs of women with disabilities highlighted the need for more work to link people with disabilities to support services, as well as the importance of prevention and protection work, as family members of women with disabilities were the most frequent perpetrators of abuse.³

A 2018 United Nations qualitative survey with 100 respondents about knowledge and attitudes about people with disabilities found that:

- In general, more than 80% of the respondents agreed that persons with disabilities should have equal rights.
- Approximately 47.7% of respondents were happy to see that people with disabilities participate in the society.
- When asked about feelings in relation to persons with different impairments, participants answered that they feel most comfortable with persons with physical or sensory disabilities. Approximately 30% of the respondents reported feeling comfortable to work or be around people with psychosocial impairments and 45% of the respondents reported to feel comfortable with persons with intellectual impairments.

² The Asia Foundation. 2016. Understanding Violence against Women and Children in Timor-Leste: Findings from the Nabilan Baseline Study – Main Report. The Asia Foundation: Dili, p. 93.

³ RHTO, Main Findings from interviews with women with disabilities about their experiences. 30 January 2017

- Most respondents agreed that women and girls with disabilities are more vulnerable to GBV and that they have equal rights to GBV related services. But at the same time, almost 50% of the respondents agree that women and girls with disabilities should not go outside because of their vulnerability to sexual assaults.
- Over 85% of the respondents agreed that persons with disabilities have the same rights as others and should get all the possible treatment and accessibility to services.⁴

One of the aims of the EU-UN Spotlight Initiative (SI) is to improve the quality and accessibility of services that respond to the specific needs of diverse women and girls. Physical accessibility of health, justice and social services remains a challenge, especially for women and girls who live in rural areas. Survivor-centred services are limited, due to factors such as victim-blaming, family and social barriers, distance, cost and time factors. There are gaps in case management practices and referral of cases for women and girls with disabilities.

In keeping with the principle of Leaving No One Behind, it is critical to ensure that organizations of persons with disabilities (DPOs) and particularly women and girls with disabilities are able to contribute to development processes including legislative reviews, municipal and sub-national structures and coordination on the NAP GBV. Efforts are also needed to enhance the ability of key service providers to identify, receive and engage with women, girls and children with different types of disabilities.

The NAP GBV has not been fully implemented due to shortage of funds and low prioritization and capacity of service providers to deliver quality survivor-centred services. As such, the SI in Timor-Leste is placed to provide solutions to a long-standing problem through an inclusive and multi-sectoral approach. Specifically, by focusing on ensuring that duty bearers have the knowledge and capacity to deliver high quality services to survivors in line with the NAP GBV identified priority areas (health, security and justice), there can be significant improvement in terms of services for survivors. Furthermore, care-seeking behavior is low in Timor-Leste so demand can be increased through community outreach through CSOs.

1. Description of required services/results

UN Women Timor-Leste Country Office looking for a registered non-government organization led by people with disabilities or partnership between different organizations led by an organization of people with disabilities (DPO), particularly women with disabilities, to strengthen essentials services for women and girls with disabilities (WAGWD) who experience violence in Timor-Leste. This is a key aspect of Result Area 4 of the Spotlight Initiative.

⁴ UN Empower for Change Project. KAP Survey on Knowledge, Attitudes and Practices on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. Dili: 2018. <https://www.un.org.tl/en/media-center/publications-resources/send/8-human-rights/45-kap-survey-survey-on-knowledge-attitudes-and-practices-on-the-rights-of-persons-with-disabilities>

This will support Activity 4.1.7. Women with disabilities advocate and have accessible services. Building upon the current Joint UN Empower for Change project (working with women with disabilities) by supporting survivors and women with disabilities to provide training to service providers on survivor-centred responses and making services more accessible to target groups (particularly women with disabilities).

This partnership will support the National Action Plan on GBV, and strengthen services which are guided by *The UN Essential Services Package for Women and Girls Subject to Violence.*⁵In support of these efforts, the UN Women Timor-Leste Country Office is looking for a national non-government organization or collaboration between organizations to deliver the following project results:

Outcome 1: Relevant government authorities and women’s rights organizations at national and sub-national levels have better knowledge and capacity to deliver quality and coordinated essential services to women and girls experiencing violence, especially those facing multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination.

This outcome is looking for changes in terms of improved knowledge and attitudes toward WAGWD. This will result in an improved understanding of the needs of women and girls with disabilities and how to work from a survivor-centered perspective.

Outcome 2: Improved access to inclusive essential services for WAGWD.

This output is looking for change in terms of access for women and girls with disabilities to quality and coordinated essential services. This is a key part of the Leave No One Behind approach. Relevant authorities and service providers receive training and support to adapt services to meet the needs of WAGWD and will work together with WAGWD to guide responses to ensure that services are more accessible.

Outcome 3: Improved policies and laws are in place and implemented to enable greater inclusion of WAGWD in VAWG prevention and support services as a result of collaborative policy influencing, putting women and girls with disabilities at the centre of advocacy.

This outcome is looking for changes to ensure policies are more inclusive of VAWG and disability rights issues. Advocacy will target inclusion of disability in the next NAP GBV, in other national action and strategic plans, and their implementation at the Municipal and sub-municipal levels.

The learnings from this project intervention will contribute to evidence on good practices in services and protections of WAGWD experiencing VAWG that will be used to advocate for effective policies, implementation, replication and scale up more widely.

Technical evaluators who are members of an Evaluation Committee appointed by UNWOMEN will carry out the technical evaluation applying the evaluation criteria and point ratings as listed below. In order to advance beyond Phase I of the detailed evaluation process to Phase II (financial evaluation) a proposal must have achieved a minimum cumulative technical score of 50 points.

1	Proposal is compliant with the Call for Proposal (CfP) requirements	15 points
2	The Organization's mandate is relevant to the work to be undertaken in the TORs (component 1)	20 points
3	The Proposal demonstrates a sound understanding of the requirements of the TOR and indicates that the organization has the prerequisite capacity to undertake the work successfully (components 2, 3 and 4)	35 points
	TOTAL	70 points

11.2 PHASE II - FINANCIAL PROPOSAL (30 points)

Financial proposals will be evaluated following completion of the technical evaluation. The proponent with the lowest evaluated cost will be awarded 30 points. Other financial proposals will receive pro-rated points based on the relationship of the proponents' prices to that of the lowest evaluated cost.

Formula for computing points:
Points = (A/B) Financial Points

Example: Proponent A's price is the lowest at $10.00. Proponent A receives 30 points. Proponent B's price is $20.00. Proponent B receives $($10.00/$20.00) \times 30$ points = 15 points

12. Preparation of proposal

- 12 You are expected to examine all terms and instructions included in the CFP documents.
Failure to provide all requested information will be at proponent's own risk and may result in rejection of proponent's proposal.
- 13 Proponent's proposal must be organized to follow the format of this CFP. Each proponent must respond to every stated request or requirement and indicate that proponent understands and confirms acceptance of UNWOMEN stated requirements. The proponent should identify any substantive assumption made in preparing its proposal. The deferral of a response to a question or issue to the contract negotiation stage is not acceptable. Any item not specifically addressed in the proponent's proposal will be deemed as accepted by the proponent. The terms "proponent" and "contractor" refer to those organizations that submit a proposal pursuant to this CFP.
- 14 Where the proponent is presented with a requirement or asked to use a specific approach, the proponent must not only state its acceptance, but also describe, where appropriate, how it intends to comply. Failure to provide an answer to an item will be considered an acceptance of the item. Where a descriptive response is requested, failure to provide the same will be viewed as non-responsive.
- 15 The terms of reference in this document provides a general overview of the current operation. If the proponent wishes to propose alternatives or equivalents, the proponent must demonstrate that any such proposed change is equivalent or superior to UNWOMEN established requirements. Acceptance of such changes is at the sole discretion of UNWOMEN.
- 16 Proposals must offer services for the total requirement, unless otherwise permitted in the CFP document. Proposals offering only part of the services may be rejected unless permitted otherwise in the CFP document.
- 17 Proponent's proposal shall include all of the following labelled annexes:

CFP submission (on or before proposal due date):

As a minimum, proponents shall complete and return the below listed documents (Annexes to this CFP) as an integral part of their proposal. Proponents may add additional documentation to their proposals as they deem appropriate.

Failure to complete and return the below listed documents as part of the proposal may result in proposal rejection.

Part of proposal	Annex B-1 Mandatory requirements/pre-qualification criteria
Part of proposal	Annex B-2 Template for proposal submission
Part of proposal	Annex B-3 Format of resume for proposed staff
Part of proposal	Annex B-4 Capacity Assessment minimum Documents

13. If after assessing this opportunity you have made the determination not to submit your proposal, we would appreciate it if you could return this form indicating your reasons for non-participation.

18 Format and signing of proposal

13.1 The proposal shall be typed or written in indelible ink and shall be signed by the proponent or a person or persons duly authorized to bind the proponent to the contract. The latter authorization shall be indicated by written power-of-attorney accompanying the proposal.

5. Length of existence and relevant experience
6. Overview of organizational capacity relevant to the proposed engagement with UN Women (e.g., technical, governance and management, and financial and administrative management)

Component 2: Expected Results and Indicators (max 1.5 pages)

This section should articulate the proponent’s understanding of the UN Women Terms of Reference (TOR). It should contain a clear and specific statement of what the proposal will accomplish in relation to the UN Women TOR. This should include:

1. The problem statement or challenges to be addressed given the context described in the TOR.
2. The specific results expected (e.g., outputs) through engagement of the proponent. The expected results are the measurable changes which will have occurred by the end of the planned intervention. Propose specific and measurable indicators which will form the basis for monitoring and evaluation. These indicators will be refined, and will form an important part of the agreement between the proposing organization and UNWOMEN.

Component 3: Description of the Technical Approach and Activities (max 2.5 pages)

This section should describe the technical approach and should be able to show the soundness and adequacy of the proposed approach, what will actually be done to produce the expected results in terms of activities. There should be a clear and direct linkage between the activities and the results at least at the output level. Specific strategies should also be described to support the achievement of results, such as building partnerships, etc.

Activity descriptions should be as specific as necessary, identifying what will be done, who will do it, when it will be done (beginning, duration, completion), and where it will be done. In describing the activities, an indication should be made regarding the organizations and individuals involved in or benefiting from the activity.

This narrative is to be complemented by a tabular presentation that will serve as Implementation Plan, as described in Component 4.

Component 4: Implementation Plan (max 1.5 pages)

This section is presented in tabular form and can be attached as an Annex. It should indicate the sequence of all major activities and timeframe (duration). Provide as much detail as necessary. The Implementation Plan should show a logical flow of activities. Please include in the Implementation Plan all required milestone reports and monitoring reviews.

Implementation Plan

Project No:		Project Name:

												Project Start and End Dates:

1.3

Monitoring and Evaluation Plan (max. 1 page)

This section should contain an explanation of the plan for monitoring and evaluating the activities, both during its implementation (formative) and at completion (summative). Key elements to be included are:

- How the performance of the activities will be tracked in terms of achievement of the steps and milestones set forth in the Implementation Plan
- How any mid-course correction and adjustment of the design and plans will be facilitated on the basis of feedback received
- How the participation of community members in the monitoring and evaluation processes will be achieved

Component 5: Risks to Successful Implementation (1 page)

Identify and list any major risk factors that could result in the activities not producing the expected results. These should include both internal factors (for example, the technology involved fails to work as projected) and external factors (for example, significant currency fluctuations resulting into changes in the economics of the activity). Describe how such risks are to be mitigated.

Include in this section also the key assumptions on which the activity plan is based on. In this case, the assumptions are mostly related to external factors (for example, government environmental policy remaining stable) which are anticipated in planning, and on which the feasibility of the activities depend

Component 6: Results-Based Budget (max. 1.5 pages)

The development and management of a realistic budget is an important part of developing and implementing successful activities. Careful attention to issues of financial management and integrity will enhance the effectiveness and impact. The following important principles should be kept in mind in preparing a project budget:

- Include costs which relate to efficiently carrying out the activities and producing the results which are set forth in the proposal. Other associated costs should be funded from other sources.

- The budget should be realistic. Find out what planned activities will actually cost, and do not assume that would cost less.
- The budget should include all costs associated with managing and administering the activity or results, particularly include the cost of monitoring and evaluation.
- The budget could include “Support Costs”: those indirect costs that are incurred to operate the Partner as a whole or a segment thereof and that cannot be easily connected or traced to implementation of the Work, i.e., operating expenses, over-head costs and general costs connected to the normal functioning of an organization/business, such as cost for support staff, office space and equipment that are not Direct Costs.
- “Support Cost Rate” means the flat rate at which the Partner will be reimbursed by UN Women for its Support Costs, as set forth in the Partner Project Document and not exceeding a rate of 8% or the rate set forth in the Donor Specific Conditions, if that is lower. The flat rate is calculated on the eligible Direct Costs.
- The budget line items are general categories intended to assist in thinking through where money will be spent. If a planned expenditure does not appear to fit in any of the standard line item categories, list the item under other costs, and state what the money is to be used for.
- The figures contained in the Budget Sheet should agree with those on the proposal header and text.
