Since 2014, FAO, IFAD, WFP and UN Women have been working together through the JP “Accelerating Progress towards the Economic Empowerment of Rural Women” (JP RWEE) in order to strengthen rural women’s meaningful participation in agricultural production, improve their food security and nutrition, increase their incomes, and support their leadership and decision-making in households and communities.

This side event will be a moderated discussion about emerging lessons on the impacts of the JP RWEE, including innovative methodologies to measure women’s empowerment in agricultural projects.
