

Webinar series - Office of the Executive Co-ordinator on Addressing Sexual Harassment

'Where are we now and what comes next?'
with Professor Catharine A MacKinnon, Marai Larasi and Lining Zhang

Tuesday - 20 August, 2020

12:00 – 1:30 pm EDT (UTC-4), New York

5:00 – 6:30 pm BST (UTC+1), London

9:30 – 11:00 pm WAT (UTC+1), Delhi

Register at: <https://bit.ly/3iSAo5c>

The last in a series of webinars run by this office will bring UN Women's advisor on ending sexual harassment, Professor Catharine A MacKinnon into conversation with the Executive Co-ordinator, activist/ community organiser Marai Larasi and lawyer / academic Lining Zhang to take stock. Decades of work against sexual harassment, the MeToo movement and the latest #MeToo tidal wave – what has changed? Are we closer to elimination? To justice? And we ask – what more needs to be done to make the world free from sexual harassment?

Panellists

- Dr Purna Sen, Executive Coordinator and Spokesperson on Addressing Sexual Harassment and Other Forms of Discrimination at UN Women - @Purna_UNW
- Catharine A MacKinnon, Lawyer, Professor, Writer, and Activist on sex equality issues in the USA and internationally
- Marai Larasi, Advocate, Community Organiser, Consultant and Educator - @MaraiLarasi
- Lining Zhang, advocate, scholar, law teacher.