This webinar will provide a space for knowledge sharing and discussion on how to better advance the situation of rural women in access to services for victims and survivors of violence, economic opportunities and rights, and participation in decision-making, from an intersectional perspective. Eminent panel of speakers will bring their expertise to identify replicable solutions specifically targeting rural women and girls at the local, national and regional levels. Guest speakers from Albania, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Turkey will also share their success stories.

The event is part of the series of webinars “A thousand ways to solve our problems: Preventing and responding to violence against women from an intersectional perspective,” co-convened by the European Union, the Council of Europe and UN Women.
