What is the Gender Architecture Performance Indicator?

Efforts to mainstream gender equality and the empowerment of women can be undermined by a lack of sufficient human and financial resources. Weak gender architecture, including understaffed and underfunded gender focal point networks and gender units, prevent UN entities from meeting their gender-related mandates. Given the paramount importance of ensuring adequate resourcing, the 2019 ECOSOC Resolution on Mainstreaming a gender perspective into all policies and programmes in the United Nations system, "requests the United Nations system, in particular UN- Women, in consultation with Member States, to address the issue of sustainable resourcing for the implementation of the System-wide Action Plan 2.0…"

Analysis of UN-SWAP 1.0 results has shown that entities with a dedicated Gender Focal Point system appointed at the P-4 or equivalent and above I, written Terms of Reference and a minimum requirement of 20 per cent of time allocated to gender equality work meet or exceed, on average, requirements for 1/3 more indicators than those entities that are missing a Gender Focal Point System. The lack of sufficient human and financial resources was highlighted by UN-SWAP reporting entities in 2020 as one of the most important factors to stall progress in the promotion of gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls.
Evidence base

Examples of documents to attach to substantiate reporting:

- Gender Focal Point TORs
- Overview of the gender unit’s budget for the reporting year and list of posts (titles and grades of all staff in the unit/department)
- Organizational chart showing location of Gender Unit
- Documents detailing the funds allocated to support gender focal point networking
- Documents showing the activities organized for Gender Focal Points (minutes of GFP meetings, material of training activities...)

Note: Please identify a self-explanatory title for the documents uploaded onto the platform, particularly for those shared to the UN-SWAP Knowledge Hub.

An effective gender architecture supports the efficient use of human and financial resources for the achievement of gender equality and the empowerment of women across the UN system. To date, there is insufficient comparable data on the current gender architecture across the UN system to establish a comprehensive baseline.

Additional questions

To close the data gap and provide justification for the rating selection, UN-SWAP reporting now requests the following data on financial and human resources for gender mainstreaming in the UN system (mandatory for all ratings except “not applicable”):

1) Total number of entity staff (part-time or full-time staff, no consultants)
2) Total cost of all entity staff (total financial “spend” for staff members payable by the entity)

Entities with a Gender Unit or similar:

1) Does the entity have a Gender Unit? (Gender Unit or Equivalent (Office, Department, Branch, etc.) personnel are individuals working in organizational units charged with coordinating the entity’s work on GEEW through providing strategic support for the development of policies, projects, capacity building and strategic initiatives, etc): Yes/No

2) If yes: (If your answer is NO, below questions will still be mandatory but you may choose to enter 0, NA)
   - Total number of staff in the gender unit
   - Total staff cost of gender unit
   - Has the remit of the gender unit recently expanded to address other cross-cutting issues than GEEW? Yes/No
   - If the gender unit addresses cross-cutting issues in addition to GEEW, please select all that apply:
     - Racism
     - Environment
     - Disability
     - LGBTQI+
     - Parity
     - Peace and security
     - Risk management
     - Education
     - Partnership and resource mobilization
Other (please describe): - Not applicable (if the GU’s remit has been not recently expanded)

- Please explain the extent to which the additional cross-cutting issues have been accompanied by an increase of financial and human resources allocated to the Gender Unit.
- Where is the gender unit located in the organigram / reporting lines?

Other data:
1) Where is the gender parity function located? (Max: 200 words)

2) Total number of gender focal points in the entity * (Gender Focal Points, or their equivalents, are resource persons within entities tasked with raising awareness and understanding of gender-related issues. They also promote the application of gender equality and gender mainstreaming. Typically, only a fraction of their work time (around 20%) is allocated to gender issues).

3) Number of gender advisors and women’s protection advisor posts that have been vacant for six months or more in the previous reporting year *

4) Does the entity have gender advisors/specialists (that are not part of the gender unit)? *(Gender Advisors, or their equivalents (specialist, officer, project specialist, etc.) are individual staff working fulltime outside of a Gender Unit (e.g., field-based gender advisors or individual gender advisors at HQ level in entities with no gender unit) to ensure gender perspectives are integrated across entity’s functional and substantive areas (e.g., capacity building, conducting gender analysis of strategic and project documents, provision of policy advice and high-quality advisory inputs, etc.). Yes/No.

5) If yes: (If your answer is NO, below questions will still be mandatory but you may choose to enter 0, NA).

6) Total number of gender advisors/specialists (not part of the gender unit) in the most recent available reporting year *

7) Total cost of gender advisors (not part of the gender unit) in the most recent available reporting year (no longer mandatory as of 2023)

How to approach requirements

Gender Focal Points
To approach requirements for this indicator, entities need to have Gender Focal Points or equivalent at HQ, regional and country levels who are appointed from staff level P4 or equivalent and above, have written terms of reference and have at least 20 per cent of their time allocated to gender focal point functions.

The junior level of the designated gender focal points has frequently been raised in reviews in the last 10 years as symptomatic of lack of commitment to gender equality and the empowerment of women across the UN system. Gender focal points have often been the most junior female staff members, 12 For an overview see AfDB (2011) Mainstreaming gender: a road to results or a road to nowhere. Evaluation synthesis. Addis Ababa: African Development Bank, pp. 40-2. http://idev.afdb.org/en/document/mainstreaming-gender-equality-road-results-or-road-nowhere which sends a message that gender equality is not being taken seriously. Further, the resolutions of the General Assembly have repeatedly called for their appointment at high levels. If the P4 level requirement has been satisfied, additional focal points can be from all professional levels.

The number of gender focal points within a UN entity is determined by that UN entity. For the 20 per cent time allocation, this can be distributed across Gender Focal Points; one Focal Point does not have to dedicate 20 per cent of his/her time to gender focal point responsibilities. The 20 per cent requirement can be achieved by summing the time several gender focal points devote to the associated functions, thereby allowing for burden sharing, especially in those cases where the focal point is undertaking the UN-SWAP/gender equality functions in addition to their regular functions not related to gender equality work.

The Performance Indicator on gender focal points refers to “equivalents”. Some UN entities, such as OHCHR and UNDP, are moving away from a focal point system. In UNDP the move is to a team-based system, where teams assign specific gender focal point functions – human resources, programming, etc. – to different staff members, with the teams reporting to a senior manager. In OHCHR Gender Facilitators are assistants to senior managers in charge of programme development and follow up on compliance within a Branch or Division. The requirements of this Performance Indicator apply, whether the UN entity chooses to appoint individual staff members as gender focal points or form a gender focal point team.

It is recommended that, one of the designated responsibilities for the gender focal points should pertain to achievement of gender balance in staffing and representation of women. Some UN entities may opt to have separate gender balance focal points, or equivalent. Gender balance focal points support senior management in relation to staff selection processes, identifying qualified female candidates and supporting the development of policies. Gender balance focal points may be required to serve on interview panels and review bodies and assist with monitoring the status of women and men within their organizations.

How to meet requirements

To meet this Performance Indicator, UN entities need to meet both requirements – gender focal points and a resourced gender unit.

Gender Unit

A Gender Unit or Equivalent (Office, Department, Branch, etc) is a separate organizational unit charged with coordinating the entity’s work on GEEW through providing strategic support for the development of policies, projects, capacity building and strategic initiatives, etc.

The gender unit can be considered to be fully resourced if it has adequate human and financial resources to support the UN entity in meeting its GEEW mandate. This will differ from entity to entity. To estimate if the unit is fully resourced, the requirements as set out in the UN entity gender equality policy, and assessment against the UN-SWAP Performance Indicators, can be taken into account. All UN entities should eventually be exceeding requirements. UN entities will thus need to determine the quantity of resources required by its gender unit/department for fulfilment of its gender mandate, including coordination, capacity development, quality assurance and inter-agency networking.
Gender units should be strategically placed in the entity and have adequate authority and capacity to influence entity’s policies and decision-making. Optimally, gender units should be located at the highest possible level in the organigram and in direct connection with the executive office.

Strong gender architecture within an entity may be reflected by:

- senior gender personnel having roles within institutional decision-making and programmatic delivery, including authority/influence over budgets and policy (i.e. extent to which perspectives of gender staff reflected in key policies, programmes and procedures);
- participation of gender-dedicated staff in cross-functional teams in priority issue areas (other than gender) and chairing internal task forces and inter-agency mechanisms;
- adequate capacity and training for gender personnel to carry out their functions; and
- associated budgets under gender experts’ responsibility.

Notes for Small entities:
Small entities that do not have a gender unit can meet requirements, as long as they are able to explain that they have a well-functioning gender architecture, with adequate resources according to the entity mandate, and provide evidence of that.

How to exceed requirements

To exceed requirements for this Performance Indicator, UN entities need to meet both requirements – gender focal points and a resourced gender unit – and have specific funds allocated to support gender focal point networking.

Examples: Meeting and Exceeding Requirements

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) has established a Technical Network of gender focal points at headquarters and in the sub-regional and country offices. The process of appointing GFPs in all of the HQ units and divisions, as well as regional, sub-regional and country offices, is ongoing. There are GFPs and alternates in most of the divisions and offices at FAO headquarters and in the decentralized offices. In 2022, there were over 50 GFPs and alternates at headquarters and more than 200 in decentralized offices. In addition to a D1 staff member and a few P5 staff members in the GFP network, many of the GFPs are appointed from staff level P4. FAO’s GFPs have written terms of reference and they are requested to allocate 20 per cent of their time to the gender focal point functions. The time allocation is reflected in their annual work plans and in the annual performance evaluation process. In addition, specific funds have been allocated to support the GFP network through the Technical Network on Gender, which is coordinated by the Gender Team in the Inclusive Rural Transformation and Gender Equity Division.

The United Nations Industrial Development Organisation (UNIDO)’s gender policy has institutionalized and expanded the network of mid to senior level Gender Focal Points (P3 to Directors). According to the policy, Gender Focal Points (GFPs) are appointed in each Division of the organization and in field offices, are expected to devote 20 per cent of their time to GFP functions and serve for a period of 2 years. As of December 2022, there are 25 active Gender Focal Points at headquarters and numerous Gender Focal Point Alternates and additional Gender Supporters. In addition, UNIDO has a Gender Office for GEEW, which serves as the institutional coordination point for the implementation of UNIDO’s Policy and Strategy for GEEW and is funded by programmable regular budget contributions and external donor funding. In 2022 it was placed in the Office of Corporate Services and Operations. The Gender Office is headed by a Director and a Gender Coordinator.

In 2022, the United Nations Office of Counter-Terrorism (UNOCT) relaunched its Gender Task Force, which comprises 25 GFPs, with TOR aligned with UN-SWAP requirements, and approved its workplan. UNOCT’s Gender Unit finalized its Global Gender Programme, which proposed an expansion of staff with several new positions requested. In 2022, the GA adopted resolution 77/262, which will enable two staff members of the GU (P4 and G5) to be funded from the regular budget in 2023 contributing to sustainability of the GU.

The World Health Organization (WHO), reinvigorated its network of gender, equity and human rights (GEHR) focal points, which was re-established in 2022. The same year, the GEHR team was upgraded to a full-fledged WHO Department on Gender, Diversity, Equity and Human Rights (GRE) in the office of the Director General, which was provided with more human resources.

The global Gender Team of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) included a new gender and crisis facility and gender teams in each regional hub. As a result, the Gender Team was made up of 24 full-time International Professional staff in 2022, showing an increase from 19 in 2018. The UNDP Gender Equality Strategy 2022-2025 recommends that country offices have dedicated gender specialists who can provide technical backstopping. In addition to this, in crisis countries, it will be mandatory to recruit at least one full-time gender specialist, at the national officer or international staff level and will be monitored by the Gender Steering and Implementation Committee. As regards the Gender Focal Team (GFT), the TOR states that every GFT needs an annual action plan with budget allocation to guide, track and help to communicate the work of the GFT.
